The Government's Five Pledges

Do you want to be a Squirrel or a Hedgehog?

Hi everyone!

Getting chilly isn't it? ~~Heating bills.~~ Autumn beckons and nights draw in. Should we be hibernating like hedgehogs till next Spring when we can wake up to check that the Prime Minister's five pledges have all been realised and we can look forward to a bright new future? Or should we all be doing what we can NOW like the squirrels to ensure a Conservative Government next year?

On January 6th your Prime Minister made 5 pledges to the British people. Do you know what these five pledges were? Perhaps you have been derailed by Putin's war, new thinking on Government green policies just introduced this week (that you might have to have 7 different bins for all your household waste but now you don't) or HS2 (vast savings to be had here by a brave and imaginative U-turn) or the Russell Brand allegations and the BBC yet again under fire. Such a lot to think about! So will you be hibernating or throwing yourself into early Christmas preparations as if there is no tomorrow? (~~which there might not be.~~) Or supporting this government in its ambitious new plans?

Here are The Government's Five Pledges. And what has been achieved so far you may rightly ask and what part can we all and YOU in particular play in securing a bright new future?

- Halve Inflation
This has already been achieved by Wilco closures that have seen everything reduced to half price before all their shops are shut.

- Stimulate Economic Growth by Creating Better Paid Jobs
Thankfully the RMT and hospital doctors have for some time now been talking with the Government about better paid jobs and we all hope for a positive resolution soon. ~~Meanwhile if you need a train to get to your hospital appointment on a day when the trains don't run and the consultant isn't there anyway because he is also on strike then you are stuffed).~~

- Reduce National Debt

We admit that this is at an all time high since 1961 but the following helpful advice has been taken from a debt support charity that may be able to help the Chancellor solve all of his problems by Spring 24.

'Q1. How much is your debt? £5,000? £10,000? £20,000? More than £20,000?

Q2. What is your biggest concern? Feeling anxious? Overwhelmed? Feeling you are falling behind and may lose the next General Election?

Regret we cannot help you Mr. Hunt.'

However we are actively looking for new donors to the Conservative Party and their contribution will be used to pay off the National Debt in return for well-earned ~~honours.~~

- Cut NHS Waiting Lists

This will be achieved soon as more and more people move over to the private sector in the hope of having a hip replaced or a cataract removed in the foreseeable future. (~~In the case of cataracts a 'foreseeable future' is not attainable without the operation.~~) More doctors will be recruited from the brightest of our young people achieving an A or B Grade in a science A level* and fast-tracked to your nearest local hospital within weeks of the results coming out. They can then learn on the job (excluding strike days).

Please note: A-levels may soon become a 'new British baccalaureate' where every student will study maths to advanced level and we are actively recruiting more maths teachers in order to achieve this.

- Pass New Laws to Stop Small Boats Arriving in the Channel

The government is instigating a new scheme to offer hard-working families a Winter Break by installing them in mobile homes along the Kent coast in nice places like Margate Whitstable and Broadstairs where they can spend a week 'boat-spotting'. Fresh air and fun for all the family as they see who can spot the most boats and report to the authorities first. Bring your own binoculars.

So, we can keep our heads under the duvet all winter like Harry the Hedgehog or we can proactively spend the Autumn doing all we can like Sammy the Squirrel and store up all our nuts for next year to get this country back on track again after 13 years of Labour misrule and ensure a Tory win in the coming important elections next year.

Goodnight.
